Make a Contribution to the RPT Intern Scholarship Fund:

All recreation undergraduate students must complete a 40 hour/wk internship the last semester of their senior year. This is a very valuable bridge between school and work that often leads to a job offer. But many of these internships are unpaid. In addition, since this is full time internship students cannot work at another job or for as many hours. So the internship can present a tremendous financial hardship for students. The Department of Recreation, Parks, and Tourism has recognized this fact and is proud to offer two scholarship opportunities to outstanding undergraduate student majors who have met all the requirements to do an internship for the upcoming spring semester. But the department depends entirely on contributions from alumni and faculty for the internship scholarship. So we urge to contribute to either or both of the following two scholarships.

1. RPT Intern Scholarship
2. Ryan Jones Memorial Scholarship
